I don't want a skating rink in my front yard

There was no report, to the Board of Selectmen Monday night, on the problems of Weeping Hill. Town Manager Sterling Morris told the Selectmen that the expected report had not arrived, and that he had been advised by Richard Brown, Executive Secretary of Burlington, that the selectmen of that town were engaged "in an argument" with their attorney, and that Wilmington would have to wait a little longer for the report.

Two residents of the Chestnut Street area had sat through the hearings and discussions, awaiting the report. They were not happy when they learned that there would be none.

Frank Holland did not have much to say, but Jim Mantini did. Mantini reminded the selectmen that the residents had been assured there would be help, before the winter months set in.

"Put up a Pump, by the Holland House" he told the Selectmen. "When the thaw comes I will not be able to go into my home, the way things are now."

The pump, he said, should pump water down the street "the way Woburn did", "I don't want a skating rink in my front yard when Burlington starts to pump water into that pond, on January first."

Mantini declared that he had already spent $1000 in temporary repairs, and that "I now expect this year will be worse than last."

The Town Manager told the selectmen that the plans which had been prepared, in case Burlington didn't do anything, had now been turned over to Burlington when that town agreed that it was responsible. The bill from the engineer had been paid, in anticipation that Burlington would re-imburse Wilmington.

Wilmington Cop's answer to Tom Sawyer

PATROLMAN JOE MORGAN: Of the Wilmington Police Department started to paint his home, last May, and then had an accident, since then nothing has been done.

Monday morning seven off duty cops arrived at the Morgan home, complete with ladders and ambition, and the house was quite promptly painted. On the staging are Officers Bobby Stewart and Mike McKenna, and a couple are on the other side. Besides Stewart and McKenna those taking part included Officers Marsi, Rooney, Burke, Kearney and Sgt. Jay Palmer.

'It was a victory for Wilmington'

The hour was near midnight. The Board of Selectmen of Wilmington had completed their meeting, and everyone was walking toward the front door, Selectmen and others. The subject of the conversation was the public hearing of a few hours earlier, for storage of hydrogen for Nova Devices of Woburn Street.

"It was a victory for Wilmington" was one expression of opinion. And everyone present, Selectmen included, agreed.

One hour had been spent in the public hearing, in which there were two principal opponents, neither of whom had been to the Nova Devices Open House, several weeks ago. One of them was carrying a thermofaxed copy of an article which had appeared in an out-of-town publication recently.

Bob Lewis of Woburn Street was first. He explored the By-Laws, and said that hydrogen was not allowed by those laws. Selectman Gillis said that a precedent had been set, by the Board of Appeals, in allowing hydrogen to other firms.

Lewis asked questions as to quantity of hydrogen, and pressure. He was told the maximum quantity would be 100,000 cubic feet, the average quantity about 60,000 feet, and the pressure 240 psi, which meant roughly 160 atmospheres. Further he was told that it was not a liquid, a term he used, but a gas.

Mr. Lewis wanted to discuss a report in the Merrimack Valley Advertiser. His lawyer, he said, thought he should sue He was cut short by the chai man of the selectmen, who wou ' not allow the discussion.

Wilson Belbin was the other principal opponent. Mr. Belbin enjoys asking questions in town meetings and other public meetings. Belbin tried to explore future plans for buildings, and wanted to know how far away the hydrogen would be stored. He was told the distance of storage was 195 feet, and the chairman of the selectmen, after a while, barred him from asking hypothetical questions on future plans.

His questions as to the safety of the proposed system were answered by Sami Atallah, a consultant from M.I.T., with later comments and by selectmen George Boylen who is also a consultant from M.I.T.

Mr. Atallah said that before the tanks could be dangerous the pressure would have to be increased to 20,000 psi (pounds per square inch) and that there were safety valves that open when and if the pressure gets to 5700 psi. The gas, he said, will not explode - "this is a myth" - in the storage area. The gas will burn, and "this is one of the smallest facilities I have seen."

Mr. Belbin declared that he had the answers, but still was not satisfied, as to the safety factor.

(Next Column)

The question of toxicity was raised. Selectman Boylen stated that hydrogen has no toxicity, no odor, no taste.

Belbin brought up the question of abuttors being notified. He had a paper with 230 signatures he said, 180 names in the area between Lucci's and the Woburn line.

Florence Balkus declared from the sidelines that she had received no notice as an abuttor. She said she lived 200 feet away across the street.

Mike Rosa of Nova Devices told the selectmen that notices had been sent to persons who were verified abuttors, in a list prepared in the Wilmington assessor's office. It could be that Florence Balkus was not, legally, an abuttor.

Mrs. Jepson, who is a Nova Devices employee, spoke up to say that half the women in Nova Devices live in Wilmington. Her husband said he had visited the place during the Open House, and saw nothing to worry about.

Selectman Miceli declared that Nova Devices had "bent over backwards" and that "I am going to vote for it."

Belbin sought to question Mrs. Jepson. The chairman would allow "no cross examination."

A man who was perhaps Richard Lesperance of 759 Woburn Street told the selectmen that he found that the trucks on Woburn Street were more dangerous.

Selectman Mike Caira thought that both Lewis and Belbin had asked many questions, and that all the questions had been answered satisfactorily. He asked for a show of hands, for those people who had attended the open house, and for a show of hands for those people who had been at the open house and found conditions to be dangerous. No hands were raised on the second question.

Selectmen Gillis and Boylen would up the discussion. Mr. Gillis said he had twenty years in public life, that he had followed "this thing," and that his personal opinion was the same as it was a few weeks ago - "This will be a good thing for Wilmington."

The vote, taken at 8:34 pm, was unanimously in favor of granting the license.

BOB LEWIS AND FRIENDS: Bob Lewis is at right, elbow on the counter. Also at the counter is Sami Atallah, M.I.T. consultant, and next to him is Mike Rosa, of Nova Devices, who is answering a question from Lewis.

To the right of center is Dr. Jack Silvers of the Mass. Science Foundation. Except for one brief comment he did not testify, but several weeks ago he declared that Nova Devices was proposing a safe operation of which he, as a citizen of Wilmington, could approve.

Route 129 By Pass declared urgent

After years of proposals, and months of talk, the job for the Selectmen Monday night was easy.

Two weeks ago the Planning Board of Wilmington had written them, requesting that they tell the State DPW that a new by-pass for Wilmington Square was urgent, and that it should be the route proposed by Professor Eliot and Rep. Fred Cain.

The vote, Monday, took less than a minute. It was made by George Boylen, and passed unanimously, without debate.

The West Intermediate School has its own calendar

Once, say thirty years ago or so, on a long and otherwise desultry voyage across the south Pacific, the writer decided to live on a twenty-eight hour day. Everyone else on the ship was, of course, on a twenty-four hour day, but every time the writer went to bed it was four hours later than on the preceding day, and when he got up it was also four hours later.

He could do that because he happened to be the captain of the ship. Not only that, but he didn't tell anyone else about it. The fact that the captain had a sort of private calendar was just his own secret and private joke. Everyone else on that ship took 42 days to cross the south Pacific, and the captain took only 36!

What has that to do with the West Intermediate School, in Wilmington?

Well, the kids who go to that school have their own private calendar, too. Like that captain of many years ago, there had been an improvement in the calendar, just for them.

The West Intermediate School has a six day schedule, even if there are only five days in the school week. There, too, there has been an "improvement" on the calendar.

There were just too many things to do. The school day was divided into seven periods, and there still wasn't enough time. So some bright individual did an improvement on Pope Gregory and other people who have improved the calendar, in the course of time.

He (or she) devised a six day week, to go into five days. That's a real improvement!

The kids understand it perfectly says Dick Malcolm, who is a Social Studies teacher. That statement possibly implies that there are some teachers who do not understand, but also possibly it was a joke.

TODAY IS DAY C: That is what the sign above the doorway says, in the West Intermediate School. The gentleman with the mustach is teacher Dick Malcolm. He didn't invent the West School Calendar, he just explained it.

There are signs, all around the school, saying what day it is. Not according to the Julian Calendar. Not according to the Gregorian Calendar. According to the West Intermediate Calendar.

Monday, for instance, will be Day A, and Wednesday would become Day C, and Friday would be Day E. Then next Monday would become Day F, and Tuesday would become Day A.

And somebody has to go around, every evening, and change those calendar signs.

Jimmy White knew the answer

It was a funny argument, although the person involved was quite serious. He had had some difficulty because of a bush, on his lawn. Apparently it was alleged to be obscuring clear sight, at the corner of a street.

The gentleman attended the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, and waited for several hours for an opportunity to be heard. When he got his opportunity it was near midnight.

The discussion was not clear. Perhaps the Highway Department had moved the bush from the corner of his lot to the center of the lot. Perhaps the lady of the household didn't want it there, and so told the Highway Department.

Anyway, there was another bush. Bill Curtin of Glen Road was said to own it, and the selectmen were told that it was half on land of Bill Curtin and half on land of the town.

"Mine comes down, and his stays up" the Selectmen were told.

"You took mine, take this!"

Selectman Banda said he had been down and looked things over. It was his understanding no Highway Department employee was involved.

Selectman Mike Caira said he had been down on Sunday. This should not be "An Eye for an Eye, a Tooth for a Tooth."

Jim Miceli didn't take part in the conversation, but he said sotto voice that if Jim White were still superintendent of streets he would just plow up the offending bush, in the winter time, and thus solve the problem.

Danny Gills moved to have the town replace the bush on the gentleman's lot. The vote was three to one, with Miceli against and Boylen not voting.

"If you do this," Boylen declared, "then you are going to have to do this at the next house, and the next one, and the next one...."

Suggestions on the conservation of energy

Norbert Rhinerson, Manager of the Reading Municipal Light Department (which services the Town of Wilmington) has forwarded to the Town Crier a copy of a letter received from the State Department of Public Utilities on the new popular subject of conservation of energy.

Dear Mr. Rhinerson:

We are all acutely aware that the supply of fuel for electrical generation pusposes is, to say the least, uncertain and it appears that it will continue so for some time. We are also aware that the shortage is the result of factors beyond our control. To add to the complexity of the situation, it is not even possible to obtain timely and accurate information on the subject of fuel supply.

It is my considered opinion that there are some positive steps that the municipal light companies can take to alleviate, at least to some degree, the potential shortage in electrical energy, and I propose that the municipals work with their customers to seek voluntary reductions, whereever reasonable, in the use of electricity. I am particularly concerned with large commercial and industrial users. For example, the curtailment of the use of lighted billboards and other types of advertising, as well as the shortening of business hours for chain and department stores, would appear to be areas where savings, both in energy and demand, could be effected.

We will shortly be entering a season which traditionally calls for the abundant use of lighting. I believe that a program should be instituted immediately by electric municipals to discourage the indiscriminate use of lighting for ornamental or decorative, rather than illuminative, purposes by commercial, municipal and domestic customers while the crisis lasts.

I would further suggest that electric municipals immediately urge retail establishments to defer using holiday lighting until just before Christmas.

I am aware that some municipals have already embarked on this type of program. However, in view of the urgency of the situation, every municipal should propose a plan of this type. Each municipal should promptly, and in no event later than 14 days, advise the Department as to its plans in this respect for energy conservation.

Very truly yours,
Robert L. Meade, Chmn.

Fred Cain says Dec. 5 deadline for filing Bills

Representative Fred F. Cain of Wilmington has announced that December 5, the first Wednesday in December, is the last day for filing bills to be considered by the state legislature in 1974.

Mr. Cain is usually at his office, at 580 Main Street, Wilmington between 8 am and 9 am, every day, before leaving for the state house. He may be contacted by calling 658-3385.

Chamber of Commerce plans luncheon meeting

A General Meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce is being planned for early December, probably on a Thursday. The meeting is being planned to be held in the Masonic Hall, and if possible the subject of discussion is to be Wilmington's water supply.

A BUSLOAD TO WATCH MIKE PLAY

Next Saturday is to be the Boston College - Syracuse game, in New York state, and one of the star players on the BC football team this iear - in fact THE star player is Mike Esposito, former Wilmington high school star.

Jack Cushing has rented a bus, which is to leave at 4 am Saturday. The schedule is such that the bus will arrive in about five hours.

More young people are signed up to ride in that bus than there are seats, or so the story goes. It is a big bus, and the ride promises to be fabulous.

The young people will stay in Syracuse overnight, and return the next day. In the group will be the Rev. and Mrs. Willis Miller of Wilmington.

CHRISTMAS TREES AROUND THE WORLD

The Wilmington Recreation Department and Memorial Library will co-sponsor a new and unique program for Wilmington called "Christmas Trees Around the World."

All organizations, whether youth oriented, religious, civic or fraternal are urged to commit themselves to sponsoring a foreign decorated tree.

Information on Christmas Trees from other lands is available at the library for this occasion - see Mrs. Murray, reference librarian.

After an organization has stated its interest and chosen a country to represent it will then work within its membership in constructing the decorations for that particular tree.

The Recreation Department will set up all trees for Saturday, December 8th when participating organizations will bring their decorations to the library to beautify their tree.

Information sheets on differing Christmas customs of the countries represented will be available.

The visable differences in tree decorating customs is sure to prove most interesting and beautiful.

There are still three or four trees available for decorating.

If interested, call Ron Swasey at the Rec. Office, 658-6512.

CAR CORNER by Vern Johnson

You can estimate the life remaining in a tire by measuring its tread depth.

If a tire has worn down to 8/32" after travelling 8,000 miles, for example, they you know you're getting about 2,000 miles for every 1/32" of wear.

Figure your tire life on this basis. Your tire should show a tread measurement. By measuring at this mark, you can estimate how many more miles you can get out of the tire.

Always replace tires before they become dangerously thin.

And always give your car the necessary check-up and tune-up at Wilmington Ford, 572 Main St., Rte. 38, Wilmington, 658-6800; we feature one of the most modern and complete service & parts depts. in the entire area and attempt to insure same day service wherever possible. Offering a wide array of new and A-1 used cars and trucks, we are also a member of Ford Authorized Leasing System. Open: sales, 9-10 Mon-Fri; 8-6 Sat.; service, 7:30-9 Mon-Fri; 7:30-5 Sat.

Helpful Hint: Tires that are under-inflated will wear too quickly on the edges.

Poems are for Everything

Joan Harlow was a resident of Wilmington until a few years ago. She lived on Ferguson Road, and one day she got a job with the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority, which is charged with the development of a 40 acre lot of blighted land off Eames Street.

Mrs. Harlow is still with the WRA, and is now Administrative Assistant of the Authority. She and her family have been residents of Chelmsford for several years.

Sometimes, when in a wistful mood, Mrs. Harlow regrets leaving Wilmington.

She has recently had a book of poems published, Poems are For Everything. The publisher is the Christopher Publishing House of North Quincy, the same firm which published the poems of Philip Buzzell a few years ago.

Mrs. Harlow has the ability to say a lot, in just a few words, and it is this ability that shines, in the poems in her book. The poems outstanding in their effectiveness with words, thoughts and rhythm of an almost intangible yet natural touch.

The book is illustrated by Alan Nelson, formerly of Woburn Street, Wilmington, now of Reading, whose paintings have several times appeared in the Town Crier.

JOAN HARLOW: With officials of the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority. To her right is Attorney John W. McCann, and WRA Treasurer Sidney Kaizer.

Sylvia Mader wins national biology honors

Professor Sylvia Mader of Drury Lane, Wilmington was presented a Bausch & Lomb microscope at the National Association of Biology Teacher's convention in St. Louis, on October 12th. Professor Mader was the runner-up in the third annual NABT-Bausch & Lomb awards, which were established to stimulate the teaching of biology in two-year colleges. First prize, of $1000, went to Daryl Stuhr, a biology teacher in Illinois.

Authors of manuscripts on any phase of two-year biology instruction published during the academic year in the "American Biology Teacher" are eligible for consideration, based on the significance of their contributions.

Mrs. Mader's article, "Junior College Biology Teachinr: A Synergistic View" appeared in the October 1972 issue.

Mrs. Mader has been professor of biology since 1969 at the Massachusetts Bay Community College. A Bryn Mawr College graduate, she is the recipient of the M.A.T. degree from Harvard University. She has also taught at Lowell State College.

The Subsidized Plagiarizer

The world every now and then should be allowed to sit back and enjoy a chuckle. Two of them are to be found, currently, in the antics of a publication in Tewksbury.

The Merrimack Valley Advertiser is well known because of its free distribution. There are newsmen who call it the Merrimack Valley Plagiarizer because the greater part of its news is stolen from such publications as the Lowell Sun, the Boston Globe and the Boston Herald-Advertiser.

It exists because of an exclusive contract with the DeMoulas chain of stores. This contract was once offered to the Town Crier, and was refused. With such a contract in its back pocket the Plagiarizer proclaims itself to be a newspaper.

A recent story in that publication was stolen from a legitimate newspaper where an error had been made, and it proclaimed that a major crisis existed in Tewksbury High School, because of a waterproblem.

According to one member of the Tewksbury School Committee, that committee has been waiting for an apology on the front page. It is still waiting, after two weeks.

More recently that publication tried to stir up trouble in Wilmington for a local company. There had been an error printed in the Town Crier, and sanctimoniously the Plagiarizer pointed out that it had not made the mistake. Neither had the Town Crier, but the Town Crier very carefully refrained from pointing a finger at others.

An attempt was made to trap the Wilmington Board of Selectmen. Cooly and carefully, the Wilmington Selectmen skirted the pitfall that had been dug, and are to be congratulated on their avoidance of the trap.

Unlike some members of the Tewksbury School Committee, the Wilmington Selectmen are not expecting an apology.

Dick Brown

For the past several years a gentleman by the name of Richard Brown has been the Executive Secretary to the Board of Selectmen in Burlington. Executive Secretary is the title for a job which doesn't have all the powers of a Town Manager, but in which the same knowledge and the same finesse must be used.

The Town Crier got to know Mr. Brown because of the troubles of Weeping Hill, in South Wilmington. He is a personable individual.

Mr. Brown has accepted, as of January first, the job of Town Administrator, in Bedford. Town Administrator is almost synonomous with Town Manager, in the parlance of town officials.

The new job will pay about $19,000 a year, and the Town Crier feels that Bedford is getting the best of the bargain. In fact, Bedford is to be congratulated.

Burlington could still have him, as Executive Secretary. The Selectmen recommended an increase in pay. The Finance Committee of that town also recommended that increase.

But the Town Meeting refused to appropriate the money.

How much do the teachers get paid, in Burlington?

WADE HOLBROOK: Son of Mr. and Mrs. David Holbrook of 45 Church St., Wilmington has been appointed youth chairman of an initiative drive aimed at reforming Massachusetts campaign practices. The appointment was made recently by Senator John M. Quinlan. In appointing Wade, Sen. Quilnan stressed the need for bringing motivated and concerned young people into the governmental system.

No lights for tennis court

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen, Monday night took their first step towards the conservation of energy in Wilmington, in the present energy crisis.

The board suggested to Town Manager Sterling Morris that the town shut off the lights at the municipal tennis courts. The vote was unanimous after someone observed that it is too cold to play tennis, and still too early for winter skating.

BROWNIE GIRL SCOUTS: From Wilmington and Tewksbury are shown presenting a collection of canned goods, for needy families in the two communities, to Lawrence Camerlongo of the Tewksbury Community Action Committee, and Mrs. George Boylen Jr. of the Wilmington Community Fund.

The food donation was a part of Brownie Playday, which was held on October 27th at the Girl Scouts' Camp Maude Eaton in Andover. The day was spent with Girl Scouts of Senior Troop 112 (Wilmington) who were teaching Crafts, Songs, Games, Nature and Camp Skills to the Brownies.

Sen. MacKenzie will accept New Legislation

Anyone wishing to file legislation for the new legislative session (1974) may do so with Senator Ronald C. MacKenzie at his office hours to be held on Wednesday, November 21, 1973 at the Burlington Town Hall, from 7 pm to 9 pm.

New legislation can also be filed through Senator MacKenzie's office at the State House by calling 727-2571.

New legislation for 1974 must be filed by the deadline, 5 pm on December 3, 1973.

NMAC wants Tewksbury housing for low income groups

The Northern Middlesex Area Commission (NMAC) would like a major program instituted in Tewksbury and surrounding communities to provide more housing for low income groups by the end of the decade.

The town, according to NMAC, should make housing available by 1980 in the following numbers of housing units.

Rent or income supplements - 845 for families and 125 for the elderly.

Rehabilitation of dwelling units - 60 to 98 for families, depending on low or moderate estimates, and 19 to 60 for the elderly according to similar estimates.

Subsidized new construction - 172 to 199 for families according to low or moderate estimates, and 86 to 113 for the elderly, according to similar estimates.

NMAC also believes a total of 599 to 620 non-subsidized homes should be built in Tewksbury to meet population growth by 1980.

In addition, the organization recommends from 16 to 24 dwellings now located in the town be demolished by 1980.

NMAC listed the requirements in line with a list of policies and objectives adopted by the organization March 7 in relation to the housing shortage in the area, not just Tewksbury.

Objectives of NMAC, according to its report "Housing Problems, Programs and Prospects - a Plan for the 70's," include developing "a comprehensive housing strategy for the region, which will include a special emphasis on the distribution to each community of a fair share of the regional responsibiliby for housing low and moderate income families as well as special efforts to relieve the housing problems of the elderly, poor and of large families."

Another objective is modifying zoning bylaws to provide more multi-family units in suburbs, single family units on smaller lots and cluster or planned unit development units. This would be done to conserve more open land, reduce the costs of building and servicing new housing and improve living environments.

The NMAC report, according to the organization, "attempts to analyze the major housing problems that are found in each community of the region, to identify the funding program resources needed from the state and federal government to eliminate these housing problems, and to delineate a strategy for a combined effort at the local, regional, state and federal levels to overcome the deficiencies in the area's housing market and make it possible for housing problems to be resolved."

Housing needs, according to NMAC, are the housing program resources required from the state and federal government if the housing problems of the area are to be entirely eliminated.

Program needs required by those levels of government are defined as follows:

- Rent or income supplements to relieve financial strain of those who pay too much of income or rent or housing costs, and to enable those who reside in severely crowded units to afford a larger, more suitable dwelling.

- rehabilitation to repair and upgrade deteriorating residential buildings, both occupied and vacant.

- demolitions to prevent continued occupation of seriously substandard or dilapidated dwellings.

- new construction to provide larger units for severely overcrowded households, replace dilapidated residential buildings and eradicate vacancy deficits.

NMAC stresses in its report that "public action consistent with NMAC's program and policy recommendations will result in many dwellings being vacated during this period (1970-1980) by elderly households and severely crowded families. These vacated dwellings that are made available by local assumption of responsibility for providing decent housing for the elderly and large families will yield substantial benefits for a community. These benefits should serve as incentives for a community's undertaking a housing action program."

NMAC goes on to describe those "incentives" as follows:

"- Creation of a reservoir of vacant housing, thus augmenting the housing supply.

"- lessening of pressures to construct new homes for in-migrating families.

"- allowing easier filtering of houses to new families that are formed within the community and to crowded families in need of larger dwellings.

"- reduction of the pace of development of fast disappearing open lands, by encouraging better utilization of existing housing resources and by undertaking a major effort to eliminate the housing problems of existing residents, especially the elderly, rather than catering exclusively to the housing demands of migrating families.

"- fostering of a more competitive housing market, weakening of inflationary tendencies in the housing market, and expanding the range of housing choices and opportunities.

"- making it easier to relocate households displaced by public or private development, such as road widening or improvement, new schools, urban renewal, etc., and, in turn, making it easier for such projects to proceed because of the availability of vacant housing for relocation."

The organization summarizes these incentives by stating "efforts to wipe away the housing problems of existing residents of the areas will increase the local housing supply and, thus, tend to relieve some of the pressures and resolve some of the deficiencies in the private housing market."

NMAC recommends, "The best way for these concerns to exert a positive influence, however, is for local officials and concerned citizens to face the housing issue headon and to begin to make positive and responsible decisions as to what they community's role is in resolving this issue."

Means of accomplishing housing goals suggested by NMAC follow where applicable to Tewksbury.

"- Develop a program of active cooperation in the planning and implementation of programs to reduce housing problems.

"- Formal adoption of NMAC's "Housing Problems, Programs and Prospects - A Plan for the 70's" by boards of selectmen, city council, planning boards and housing authorities as constituting local housing policy.

"- Consideration of establishing a regional housing authority to implement housing programs on an areawide basis.

"- Adjust zoning bylaws in suburban communities to provide districts for multi-family housing (town houses, garden apartments, etc.).

"- Adjust zoning bylaws in suburban communities to allow single-family homes to be constructed on smaller lots in certain districts.

"- Establishment of provisions in zoning bylaws to enable boards of appeal to allow 'special exceptions' for high density development in certain districts as long as some units will be occupied by low and moderate income households.

"- Participate with NMAC and the state Department of Community Affairs in the determination of subsidized housing targets for 1974-1978.

"- Consideration of depositing interest earned from general revenue sharing allocations in a special fund to extend loand and/or grants for housing rehabilitation to individuals or groups who cannot obtain conventional financing."

Spotlighters Dinner-Theatre was a success

It was the second such event for Wilmington, at the Casa di Fior, off West Street. The Wilmington Spotlighters, amateur theatre group had a dinner-theatre party, and it was a success. All tickets had been sold out a month in advance.

The cast of "Plaza Suite" received a standing ovation for their performance. Michael Collis was an excellent soloist, in two difficult songs - The Godfather, and Delta Dawn. The Joe DeRose Quartet was a treat to the ears.

The next monthly meeting of the Spotlighters is to be at the American Legion Hall on November 26th. There will be a workshop on makeup, conducted by Bernice Hubby. Everyone is invited to join with the Spotlighters on November 26th.

NOT QUITE WHAT IT SEEMS: Carol Cook and Bill Silvestri, in "Plaza Suite," performed last Saturday at the Casa di Fior. She is not pushing him out of the window - she is trying to pull him in, and ripping his rented tuxedo in the process.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS

Decay is always the most important problem where your teeth are concerned.

Decay is most often caused by acids which ferment in our mouths. This acid attacks teeth and goes a long way toward destroying the enamel on the outside of teeth.

Teeth should be brushed at least twice daily - we all know that! Yet we neglect our teeth and leave our toothbrushing to those times when we remember.

With all the attractive products for tooth care on the market today, why not make tooth care a pleasant part of your health regimen!

Silver Lake Pharmacy, 52 Main St., Wilmington offers a complete selection of the finest dental supplies. Denture cleaners and powders, tooth pastes, polishes and powders are all available in a great variety of name brands. Open seven days a week from 9 am to 10 pm. Phone 658-4617.

Pancake breakfast offered by Jaycees

A traditional pancake breakfast will be held again this year on Thanksgiving morning in Tewksbury. The event will occur at the Central school on Pleasant Street from 8 to 10 a.m., just prior to the annual Tewksbury/Wilmington football game.

All residents of both towns are cordially invited to build their spirits and warm their bellies with pancakes, ham, coffee, and hot chocolate. Milk will be available for the younger set.

The proceeds of this annual feast will go to the Tewksbury Jaycees community health programs. Among the programs being sponsored this year are seminars in Venereal Diseases and Alcoholism, and aid to the mentally retarded.

Jaycee Chef, Peter Dunlop, whose culinary delights were the talk of the town last year, will be on hand.

NEW BOOKS AT WILMINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Appletons of Beacon Hill by Louise Hall Tharp: Financiers, poets, wits and a congressman are introduced in this rich and exciting biography about one of the most celebrated families of 19th century Boston.

Look Down That Winding River by Ben Lucien Burman: Visit the old-timers, the showboats and most important, the river of the Mississippi steamboat days. Mr. Burman recreates that glamourous era with humor and gaiety.

Halfbreed by Maria Campbell: Life among whites in an urban environment, was difficult, but Maria Campbell salvaged her life and learned to take pride in her Indian heritage. An engrossing autobiography.

Malice in Blunderland by Thomas L. Martin, Jr.: A spoof, satire and commentary on bureaucracy in everyday life. A work of wit, point and purpose in the tradition of the Parkinson and Peter principles.

Return to Earth by Colonel Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin, Jr.: A candid look at the human side of the space program. Mental depression and a troubled marriage were the problems that Aldrin faced and finally overcame as told in this corageous autobiography.

The Kings Grey Mare by Rosemary Jarman: Elizabeth Woodville was a woman on the fringe of court activity and intrigue. This novel based on her life is filled with the supersition, courtly manners and warfare of medieval England.

The Salamander by Morris West: The background in modern Italy, the high society of politics and finance. Here Mr. West has set a story of love intrigue and violence that holds the reader spellbound from the first page to the last.

Give Us This Day by R.F. Delderfield: This last volume in the trilogy about the Swann family brings their story to the brink of the First World War. Once more they are involved in wars, politics and romance - in short, in the vital life of Victorian England.

PACK 136 NOVEMBER MEETING

The November Pack meeting of Pack 136, which had for its theme "Viking Discoverers," was an exciting and interest one. A special treat was a visit by Lt. Bionigen and Firefighter John Brown of the Wilmington Fire Department, who presented a program on fire prevention and showed slides of the fire department in action.

It was a busy and proud evening for Cubmaster David Fillio who, after the opening ceremonies, began the pack meeting by inducting seven boys as new Cubs: David Sullivan, Duane Grano, Mark Marino, Brian McCue, Michael Scozzaro, William Jackson, and Timothy Nicoll. Bobcat badges were awarded to Cubs Brian McCue, Michael Scozzaro, William Jackson, and Timotny Nicoll; and Recruiter Strips to Cubs Glen Barlow, Stephen Barlow and Mark Metcalfe, and to Webelo Buddy Barlow.

Webelos Activity Badges were presented to: Gregory Davidson for Aquanaut, Geologist, Naturalist and Outdoorsman; Gary Hastings for Engineer; John Peterson for Engineer, Scientist and Traveler; Dana Grano for Aquanaut; and to Sal DePasquale and Mark Melanson for Athlete. The Arrow of Light, the highest award in Cub Scouting, was presented to Webelos Scouts: Gary Hastings, Buddy Barlow, and Scott Carpenter. Gary Hastings and Scott Carpenter also were awarded threeyear Service Stars.

Six Cubscouts were graduated to Webelos: Stephen Barlow, Scott Romanowski, John Boudreau, Michael Crimmins, Thomas Fillio and Noel Jones.

Den Chief Service Stars were awarded to two Boy Scouts of Troop 136 who are Webelos Den Chiefs, a two-year Star to Allan Jones, and a one-year Star to Walter Hamilton.

Cubmaster Fillio held an impressive Graduation Ceremony in which Gary Hastings, Buddy Barlow, Scott Carpenter, Dana Grano, and John Godbout were graduated from the Pack to Boy Scout Troop 136.

Scoutmaster Tom MacFeeley came to the meeting to welcome the new Boy Scouts into his troop.

The December Pack meeting will be the Christmas party, which all the Cubs are looking forward to. This Saturday Pack 136 will be having a cake sale at Wilmington Plaza, starting at 10:00 am.

WILDCAT TALES

Varsity eleven rip Rangers

RICK HOWLETT: With proper form blocks Larry Phillips' punt in the third period of the Wildcats triumph over the Rangers. Other Wildcats doing their job are Jack Holloway (60).

Sat. Nov. 3...The varsity eleven broke open a close game with three td's late in the third quarter and went on to whip the Methuen team, 27-6. The Wildcats extended their recent win streak to three, while defeating the Rangers for the eighth consecutive season.

After a scoreless opening frame the varsity broke on top at 2:35 of the second stanza when Carl Butler fired a 17 yd scoring pass to Doug Stewart. The Wildcat drive of 43 yards in nine plays was set up by Ray Noel's 17 yard punt return on the next to last play of the first period. All of the plays were on the ground in the march until Butler's third td pass of the season put the varsity on top.

On the ensuing series of plays Methuen marched 69 yards in 11 plays with Keith Alexa capping the drive with a fine 18 yard run around the Wildcats right end. This score, which tied the contest at 6-6, marked the initial points scored against the outstanding Wildcat defensive unit this season.

Early in the third stanza the varsity took over at their 49 and proceeded to move the ball down field to the Rangers 21 with Bob Bavota and Dean Devlin doing most of the running. On a first down play at the 21 Devlin took a pitch from Butler and swept left end and down the sideline for an apparent td, but a holding penalty nullified the score. Not to be out done the Wildcats came right back on the next play with Stewart scoring on an end around play. However, the fine 36-yard run was denied as the Wildcats were caught holding and the varsity were back at the original line of scrommage, their own 49.

On the second down play from midfield Burlet hit Stewart with a 15 yard pass and run play, but the next play, a pass interference call against Alexa on Stewart at the one paved the way for the winning td. After the Rangers jumped off side on the first and goal play, Butler plunged in from the one foot line to give the varsity a 12-6 lead. Ray Noel's successful rush around left end on the two point conversion put the Wildcats on top, 14-6.

Two minutes later on a Ranger punt attempt from their own 42 defensive tackle Rick Howlett broke in from the left side to block Phillip's kick and the ball rolled out of bounds at the 25 to give the Wildcats great field position. Devlin swept left end on the ensuing play breaking four tackled enroute to the end zone and with Stewart's placement it was 21-6.

Methuen proceeded to dig their own grave turning the ball over on their second fumble of the game two plays after the Wildcats had scored. Don Churchill pounced on Nicholson's fumble at the Rangers 33. Devlin rambled 14 yards to the 19 and this set the stage for Paul Fitch's 19 yard touchdown run to break the game wide open at 9:59 of the period. Stewart's kick failed and as the period ended it was 27-6.

The three touchdowns scored by the varsity snapped a seven game third period scoring drought for the offensive unit. In the final frame Stewart picked off an errant Simm pass to thwart a Methuen drive, while Butler, a going concern at line-backer all afternoon, recovered another Ranger fumble late in the game to put the game away.

Wildcats	0	6	21	0 -27
Rangers	0	6	0	0 - 6

Individual leaders

Rushing: Devlin (W), 12-73; Bavota (W), 9-57; Alexa (M), 12-49; Nicholson (M), 12-40.

Passing: Butler (W), 5-7-85; Simm (M), 1-7-15; one intercepted.

Receiving: Stewart (W), 3-67.

Frosh extend streak

Fri. Nov. 9...The WHS freshmen squad upped its unbeaten skein to five as they pulled out a 12-6 win over Methuen. The Wildcats will host Tewksbury tomorrow in their last game of the season.

After Methuen pounced on a Wilmington blocked punt in the endzone, the frosh fought right back and got scores by Jim Stewart (one yard run) and Bob Sferrazza (25 pass play) to give them the lead which they never lost.

The Wildcat's slate now stands at 7-1.

Booters bow in tourney action

The Northern League Champion Wildcat soccer eleven lost a tough 2-1 game to Nauset Regional in a Division II quarter final game last Wednesday. Traveling to Duxbury the varsity had hopes of getting by the first round this season, but a stubborn defensive (3-4-4 alignment) by the Nauset club proved to be too much.

The Wildcats played very well in their second tourney appearance in two seasons, but an early Nauset goal put Coach Lentine's club behind and it was a game of catch up. John Harrison's apparent tieing goal midway into the opening period was nullified on an offside call and this proved to be a big play later in the contest.

Trailing 2-0 with only seconds remaining in the final frame, Dave Maloney converted a Mark Kalkanajian pass and the Wildcats were on the scoreboard. However, the Nauset netminder proved to be equal to the task and turned aside the varsity's final thrust.

Wildcats	0	0	0	1-1
Nauset	1	0	1	0-2

Jayvees whip Methuen

Mon. Nov. 12...The Wildcats closed out their 1973 season with a 26-0 slaughtering of the Methuen Rangers at WHS field. The final slate of the jv's was 3-2-1.

Paul Cipriani sacked the Ranger quarterback and forced a fumble which Gary MacDonald recovered on the Methuen 18. Three plays later, Gordie Fitch took a quick pitch and swept right for the opening scor. The conversion run was no good.

In the second stanza, a good rush by the Wildcat defenders forced the Ranger punter to get off a short kick, and Wilmington took over the 38 yard line of Methuen. A 17 yard pass to Mike Mazzola and nine and eleven yard runs by Joe russo and Bob Aprile respectively set the stage for Jim Stewart to plunge one yard for the junior varsity's crew lead, 12-0.

Methuen could not produce any kind of an attack and had to punt. Dino Esposito returned the punt 38 yards for a score, but a roughing the kicker penalty nullified the six points. After two more punt attempts, the Wilmington eleven took the pigskin and on the next play, Stewart connected with Joe Russo for a 30 yard touchdown pass. The conversion attempt failed, and Wilmington was ahead, 18-0 at half time.

Mike Mazzola snatched a Stewart aerial to notch an 11 yard td. Aprile scored the extra points to account for the final margin.

Harriers in allstate meet

Coach Frank Kelley's runners competed in the All-State Cross Country Meet last Saturday in Boston and in their initial appearance the Wildcats came in 22nd with a score of 504. Springfield Cathedral won the meet with 99 points. The position and time of the Wildcat runners follows:

67	Ian MacInnis	15:56
69	Doug Spring	15:58
113	Pete McNaughton	16:40
125	Tony Gravallese	16:44
130	Mark Blaisdell	16:48
135	Carl Abell	16:56
157	Bary Foster	17:00

Flag Football

Mon. Nov. 12th...Steve Woods scampered for six touchdowns and his brother Dave scored once to power the Giants to a 46-20 win over the winless Pats. Ray Cappodonno, Timmy Sughrue and Scott Nolan each tallied a six pointer for Coach Tom Beaton's club.

Tue. Nov. 13th...The Cowboys stunned the previously undefeated Vikings, 12-0 with Dave Nally and Jim Bruce leading the offensive attack with a td each. Billy Liston and Mack Downs were outstanding on defense for the winners as were Doug and John Catania and Gary Hastings for the league leaders.

Girls

Intermediates: 10:001:15 am
Juniors: 11:15-12:30 pm
Seniors: 12:30-1:45 pm

Boys

Intermediates: 2:00-3:15 pm
Juniors: 3:15-5:00 pm
Seniors: 5:00-6:45 pm

An important meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 28 at the High School gym for the purpose of getting team entries, sponsors and players for the Adult Division of the Rec Basketball League.

The session will start at seven o'clock with an open basketball playing time whereby all who attend may shoot around or scrimmage in a friendly game. The minimum age for the men and women's division is 18 years, not playing for any high school. There is no maximum age.

Girls Ice Hockey...The Recs Gold sextet tasted defeat for the initial time last Sunday night, bowing to Nashua, 3-0 in MVGHL action. The Maroons also came up short dropping a 6-1 decision to the Nashua B's, and are now sporting a 0-3-0 record. Laura Miller scored the lone Recs goal of the twin bill with Karen Surrette assisting midway into the middle frame of the Maroon game.

Next Wednesday night the Gold unit travels to Woburn for a non-league game with the Rag Dolls of the Middlesex League. Face-off is listed for 6:30 pm at the Joyce Rink.

Co-ed Volleyball: Anyone 18 or over interested in playing volleyball, in an informal atmosphere may participate any Thursday evening, 7:30 to 9:30 in the North Intermediate Gym.

Ladies Slimnastics: a good crowd of ladies ages 18 and over are assured every Tuesday evening, 7:30 to 9:30 in the High School Gym.

Indoor Golf: While the ladies are bending and stretching in one end of the High School Gym, sounds of plastic golf balls careening off walls can be heard from those perfecting their various strokes in the other half. Free instruction is offered every Tuesday evening, 7:30 to 9:30 in the High School Gym.

applications: Part-time employment is available for any Wilmington resident age 16 and over. Applications should be obtained at the Recreation office as soon as possible.

Christmas Trees Around the World: any youth organization, school classroom or adult organization wishing to sponsor a foreign Christmas tree should call the Recreation Department 658-6512 for further information (See story, on another page).

Up-Coming Programs: Santa's Workshop will start to take shape in a couple of weeks. Again this year we'll turn St. Dorothy's Church annex into a winter wonderland, reminiscent of Santa's original workshop in the North Pole.

Dates of operation will be Monday December 17th through Friday, December 21st, 6:30 to 9:30 pm, Saturday, December 22nd, 1:00 to 8:00 pm and Sunday, December 23rd, from 1:00 to 5:00 pm.

First meeting of volunteer helpers will be next Monday evening, 8:00 pm in the Rec. office.

Gyms will be open for elementary school students, intermediate schools, teens and adults. The schedule will come out next week.

Information on self defense, children's theatre and adult education/recreation survey results will be forthcoming.

WILMINGTON YOUTH HOCKEY

Intertown action...

Mite B (5-0-1)...Timely saves by Ed Laquidara and the defensive play of Lance Sullivan, Kevin Robinson, Dennis Moran, Darin Colarusso, Mike Kidd, and Ed Olson enabled the B's to post their fourth shutout of the season by tying Billerica 0-0 last Saturday. Wilmington held Billerica to only four shots on goal.

Squirt A (2-4-0)...The A's lost their fourth game by bowing to league leading Medford 10-1. Ben Scozzaro saved Wilmington from being shutout with a tally in the third period assisted by John Murphy. Medford held a wide edge in shots on goal, 35-7.

Squirt B (1-4-0)...Wilmington outshot Medford 15-10, but Medford managed a goal in each of the first and second periods for a 2-0 win over Dick Gunn's sextet last Sunday.

Pee Wee A (2-2-2)...The A's defeated Chelmsford 3-1, last S irday. Chelmsford took a quick l lead early in the first period, W nington knotted the score on a p lty shot by Dana Kidd. After a scoreless middle frame, Wilmington scored two unanswered goals off the sticks of Matt Kmon unassisted and Bill McCann assisted by Kmon.

Pee Wee B (3-2-1)...Wilmington scored in each period for a 3-1 win over Reading last Saturday. Mike Beatrice scored the first goal unassisted, followed by Rich robinson in the middle frame also unassisted. Jim Burns closed out the scoring assisted by Hoakie Laliberte.

The win was marred by the injury to Bob Richter the B's wish him a speedy recovery.

Bantam A (2-4-0)...Wilmington received fine goal tending from Don Roberts and Mike Marini as they teamed up to blank Acton 3-0. Bob Kohler opened the scoring with assists going to John Smith and Bobby Murphy. Minutes later Al Willson found the range assisted by Kenny Plummer and Paul Trickett for a 2-0 first period lead. Matt Donnelley closed out the scoring with a tally in the final period assisted by Steve Pellerin and Rich Gunn.

Intramural notes...

Sprites...Coach Dave Wiberg's Blades ripped the Blazers, 9-3 to remain deadlocked with the Gulls (3-0) for the divisional lead. In other action last Friday the Rockets moved into third place with a 5-3 triumph over the lowly Spurs, 5-3, while the Buckaroos topped the Checkers 5-3. On Saturday morning chuck Polizzotti's Gulls whitewashed the Roadrunners, 5-0.

Squirt...The Bears clawed the Braves, 3-1 to open weekend play in this division last Friday evening. In Saturday's twin-bill the Reds and Americans played to a 1-1 tie and the Bears outscored the Aces, 6-4. On Sunday morning the much improved Voyageurs routed the Barons, 8-3.

Pee Wees...The Kings and Canucks extended their unbeaten streaks to three with 3-2 and 4-1 triumphs over the No. Stars and Sabres respectively. In the other two contests the Flyers ripped the Seals, 8-3 and the Blues edged the Penquins, 9-7 in spite of a six goal scoring performance from Jamie Boudreau.

Bantams...Coach Arthur Spear's Canadiens handed the Hawks their initial loss of the season, 6-4 behind the scoring of Jim Milano (two goals), Mike Stemmler (two), Ricky Fudge (one) and Mike Valente (one) to move into undisputed possession of first place. In the other two games the Bruins topped the Red Wings, despite a three goal hat trick by the Wings Chris Davey and the Leafs posted their first win of the young season, trouncing the Rangers, 7-2.

Midgets...The Bombers and Cougars each won last week to set the stage for tomorrow's show down for first place. The Cougars jolted the Generals, 7-1 while the Bombers defeated the Tigers, 6-1. In the other encounter the Knights moved within a game of the divisional leaders ripping the Jets, 10-4.

The woman who was sent in to replace John Havlicek

Our story begins the day we at Dial Finance approached John Havlicek and asked him to endorse our company.

Naturally, John wanted to know more about Dial before he agreed to the endorsement. So we arranged a little experiment.

Without alerting any Dial personnel, we had John call several of our offices with questions concerning loans—interest rates, monthly payments, etc. In every case, John's questions were answered promptly, directly and courteously. Nobody gave him a sales pitch. Or pressured him. Or even asked his name. Not once!

Needless to say, John was impressed. He began seeing that Dial was a different kind of finance company.

Next, to illustrate another dimension of Dial service, we told John about our unique Best Buy Shopping Service, a free, no-obligation way to become a better informed shopper. We explained to John that every Dial office was equipped with a library of respected consumer publications. And that everybody was invited to stop in, browse through the publications and take down information on a whole spectrum of consumer products ranging from toasters to automobiles. The Best Buy Shopping Service details data on brand features, performance, reliability and discount prices. What's more, while John was comfortably seated, absorbing facts, he could rest assured that he wouldn't be rushed or pressured or even approached.

But John made the point that if he stopped in at a Dial office, he would probably be recognized. So the test might not be a fair one. Point well taken. However, he suggested that his wife, Beth (the woman in the picture), go in his place. She did. And here's what she reported:

"As I walked into the Dial office, a pleasant young woman smiled and said 'hello'. I told her that I wanted to use the Best Buy Shopping Service and took a seat at the Consumer Library desk. The woman asked if I'd like a pencil and paper to jot down notes and I said 'yes'. Then I went through the publications for a full hour. Nobody ever bothered me.

"By the way, since John loves to go fishing, I had been planning on buying him some tackle for Christmas. The library proved invaluable in providing me with information on fishing equipment. In fact, I made up my mind about the specific equipment I wanted to get... and the price I should be paying for it.

"All in all, I'd say it was an extremely pleasant and useful experience. I had no idea any finance company has these kinds of services."

We hope that, like Beth Havlicek, you avail yourself of the Dial Best Buy Shopping Service. Or let Dial help you in any way. We want to prove to you that we don't want you to like us just for our money.

Visit Dial's Billerica office at 700 Boston Road, Towne Shopping Center or phone 667-4143. Other Dial offices: 3 downtown, Brockton, Lynn, Malden, Randolph, Walpole.

REDMEN SCALPINGS

Redmen in MVC basement

A surprisingly tough Lawrence Central Catholic squad blanked Tewksbury 6-0 at the Center School field in Tewksbury on the coldest Saturday of the season.

The loss was Tewksbury's sixth in a row and left the Redmen with the league's worst record - one win and six defeats. The loss also marked the team's fifth shutout of the season. Chelmsford, Billerica, Methuen, Austin Prep, and Central Catholic have all blanked Tewksbury by a 75-0 count.

The win by Central enabled them to escape last place as they raised their record to 1-5-1. Tewksbury tried to shake up its less than potent offense as sophomore quarterback Tom Sullivan started and went the route. The tight contest wasn't decided until the last 14 seconds of the game as both teams had trouble sustaining drives.

The first quarter saw Central controlling the ball for the first four minutes of the game. With co-captain Mike Donohue doing the bulk of the ball-carrying on tough runs up the middle as Central moved from their own 25 to their 38 on nine plays.

The tenth play of the series completely baffled Tewksbury. Quarterback Pat Walsh handed off to Donohue on what looked like a sweep left. Donohue suddenly shoved the ball into the stomach of junior halfback Sam D'Agata and the speedster sprinted around Tewksbury's right end for 55 yards to the seven yard line. With first and goal for Central inside Tewksbury's 10, things really looked bleak for the home club. A vicious tackle by blitzing linebacker Billy McCann set Central back to the 10 and another reverse to Donohue was crushed by the left side of Tewksbury's line. The long drive ended as Donohue carried to the three-yard line when he tumbled out of bounds on the left sideline.

With less than four minutes remaining in the quarter Tewksbury finally went on the offensive at the three and managed to move the ball out to the 23 on the plunges of Tom Morin and Rick Mackey.

Tewksbury then got a big break. Brian Smith's punt was run back 55 yards for an apparent touchdown by Ernie Tersoro. A roughing the kicker penalty nullified Central's score as the quarter ended.

Tewksbury saw what could have been a big break for them turn into a big nothing as the second half opened. Tom Morin blasted through to block another Walsh punt. Morin and Walsh scrambled after the bouncing ball as it rolled to the Central 30.

Walsh managed to pick up the ball and avoid Tewksbury tacklers as he moved to the Redmen 47, salvaging one yard out of a possible disaster for Central. It was the key play of the game as far as Tewksbury was concerned.

For the remainder of the contest both teams banged away at each others middles with no scoring as a result.

The Redmen had the ball at their own 30 when disaster struck again late in the fourth quarter. Tom Sullivan fumbled the snap from center and sophomore linebacker James Deluca pounced on the ball. Six plays later the Central club was in the end zone. With 46 seconds left Walsh swept right to the 22. Donohue then dove to the 20 with a fourth and three situation. At this point Walsh again bootlegged the ball to the 14 and picked up the first down with 31 seconds on the clock. As the clock wound down big Sam D'Agata broke loose and rambled 14 yards for the score. Mark Gagnon's conversion was short and Tewksbury would need a miracle to punt out a victory.

Hopes for that miracle ended when Sullivan was intercepted by D'Agata as time ran out.

The Redmen now will take a couple of days off before preparing for what now is their whole season - Thanksgiving Day and the Wildcats of Wilmington.

Pop Warner equipment to be collected

The intramural Pop Warner equipment for the intramural program will be collected Saturday, November 17 at the Novitiate on Chandler St. in Tewksbury, according to Recreation Director Frank Flanagan.

Coaches for each team will be on hand to collect, and parents are requested to have the equipment washed and clean. Equipment to be repaired should be turned in separately, or brought to the attention of the coach.

WILMINGTON ADULT HOCKEY

Wed. Nov. 7...The Runners knocked the vikings from the unbeaten ranks posting a 3-1 triumph behind the outstanding goal tending of Tony Jankoski. Brian Walsh fired home his fifth and sixth seasonal tallies to lead the Runners, while Rich Lyver chipped in with his third. jack Irwin spoiled Jankowski's shutout bid at 5:10 of the final period scoring his third goal of the season with John Curran assisting.

In the nite cap the Bulldogs jumped out to an early 3-1 lead only to squander it away and then came back with three tallies in the last frame to whip the winless Flyers, 6-3. Brian Harvey led the winners with a pair of goals, while Kevin Giles, Howie Collins, Kevin Anderson and Neil Harvey lit the scoring lamp once each. Paul Mazzapica, Jim Meehan and George Small scored their first goals of the season to lead the Flyers offense.

Sun. Nov. 11...Dolly's won their second in a row, edging the Runners, 3-2 behind the scoring of John Trickett (two goals to bring his league lead to 8) and the goal tending of Ray Deschamps. Bud Francis scored the other Dolly marker at 9:21 of the middle frame. Bud's tally proved to be the eventual game winner as the Runners scored twice in the third frame with Ruddy Kent lighting the lamp twice.

The Vikings and Flyers battled to a 3-3 tie with Don Currier's tally at 11:56 of the final frame knotting the game for the Vikings for the third and final time. Other goal scorers for the Vikings were Dave O'Connell (2nd) and Jim Cushing (3rd). Tom Mazzapica and Wayne MacDonald each scored their third seasonal goal, while Merril MacInnis was tallying his first to lead the Flyers attack.

Mon. Nov. 12...The Runners moved into the league lead with a convincing 4-2 triumph over the Bulldogs in the only game scheduled. Buddy Gordon's goal at 8:11 of the opening frame gave the winners a 2-1 lead they never relinquished. Butch Ernst tally in the middle frame with Rich Lyver assisting made it 3-1 and in the final stanza Ruddy Kent fired home his fifth seasonal tally to make it 4-1. Jim Donahue scored with 2:29 left in the contest for the Bulldogs to provide the final margin of defeat.

COUGAR CORNER

Middies edge Cougars 6 - 0

The Austin gridsters were stymied in their attempt to even their 73' record when they were "nosed out" by Dracut High School.

The visiting Middies tallied late in the fourth wuarter on a desperation heave from quarterback Jean Dufour to end Dave Melkonian. The play carried 32 yards and was the only score of the afternoon.

The biting cold wind last Saturday numbed the fingers of the quarterbacks causing eight fumbles - six for Dracut and two for the Cougars. Austin recovered four of the Dracut fumbles.

In the second period Austin and Dracut swapped the ball on four quick turnovers. First, visitor Dan Smith intercepted a Gaudet pass and ran it back to Austin's 20. Next quarterback Dufour fumbled when hit hard by Gerry Bouvier. Marino made the recovery for the home team. Now it was Austin's turn to lose the evasive oval. Dracut did manage to run three plays and move to Austin's one foot line. They had a first down goal. Another fumble recovered by Bouvier.

The half ended in a scoreless tie as the few hearty fans ran to cover seeking warmth and shelter.

The second half was no different than the first. Defenst was dominate. Dan Agati, Steve Webster, David Beaver and the aforementioned Bouvier did yeomen work in stopping the Dracut running plays. In turn Austin was not able to mount any sustained drives. The Cougars passing game was shut off by the alert Dracut defenders.

It lookes as if the game would end in a scorless tie. However, late in the fourth period, Austin failed to punt on fourth down. They were gambling to retain possession of the ball. The gamble failed and Dracut took over on Austin's 35.

The visiting signal caller ran a play for a short gain, then threw two passes that failed. On the fourth down, he faded back and heaved. His aerial bomb fell into the outstretched arms of number 90 - Dave Melkonian as he strode across the Austin goal line for six big points and the ball game. The conversion attempt, a kick, sailed wide of the bar.

Austin still had a glimmer of hope as Ed Misk gathered in the ensuing kickoff and raced down the sidelines. However, he was pushed out of bounds at mid-field. With the clock running out and with Dracut defenders fired up, Gaudet's desperation passes went astray.

Thanksgiving football tickets: Wilmington High Faculty Manager Jack Lynch will be selling tickets in the schools for the annual Turkey Day encounter with Tewksbury according to the following schedule. The game will be played in Tewksbury this year.

Tue. Nov. 20th: Woburn St., 9:30 am; North Intermediate 10:20 am; Glen Rd., 11:00 am; Wildwood, 11:30 am; High School 2 - 4 and 7 - 8 pm.

Wed. Nov. 21st: West Intermediate 9:45 am; Boutwell, 10:15 am; Shawsheen, 10:45 am; High School, 12 noon to 1:00 pm.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 50¢ for students. All tickets will cost $1.25 at the game on Thursday morning so all students are advised to purchase their tickets early.

Chargers close out season with tie

Sun. Nov. 11...The Wilmington Chargers closed out their 1973 season with a 14-14 tie at Medford. In the non-league encounter, Chuck Matthews swept right late in the fourth quarter and ran 98 yards down the sideline to notch a touchdown and bring the pigskinners within two. Brian Tower notched the two point conversion, and tied the game 1t 14. Phil Russo scored earlier in the contest on a three yard run.

The tie brought Wilmington's record to 4-4-1.

Lead by the threesome of John Robarge, Tim Moran, and Dave Ballou, the Charger "B" team pulled out a 14-0 win over Medford.

The win gave the "B" squad a final slate of 3-4-2. Quarterback John Robarge passed nine times and completed 12 against the big Medford squad.

Moran gave the B's a six point edge on an eight yard run, and Robarge connected with John Briggs for the two point conversion and an 8-0 halftime lead. Dave Ballou scooted four yards for the final score, the PAT attempt was no good, and Wilmington went on to win.

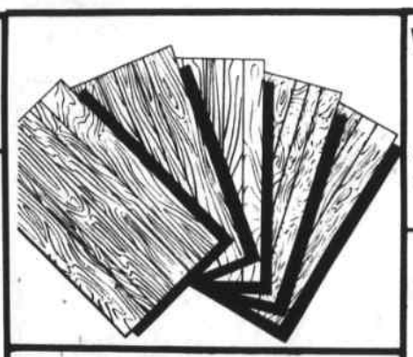

It was in November of 1681 that people had their first sight of Haley's Comet; in 1776 the firs permanent theater was established in America, also in November.

Holes are drilled by keeping the tool perpendicular to the work. When you are drilling, remember that approximated perpendicular is not good enough.

The drill must be absolutely in line with the desired direction of the hole. Take time to sight from two sides to be sure you are not leaning the drill in any direction.

If you are using a brace and bit, make sure that the bit is securely in the chuck jaws.

Make sure your homeowners jobs are kept as easy as possible by coming to Sweezey Home Courtesy Center, 615 Main St., Wilmington, 658-2051 for supplies and advice. Our display of Rockwell home workshop tools and machines includes 10" table saw, radial drill, 10" radial saw, drill jig saw and a sander. We also handle a complete line of hardward and hand tools and have a full line of Ozite indoor and outdoor carpeting. Open: 8 am to 5 pm.

Helpful Hint: Locate the center of the hole to be bored by making a mark with an awl.

Some things about a house may be overlook as defects that will not seriously damage the value of a house.

Among these are the wrong color paint on the walls and/or broken gutters if they can be easily repaired. Cracked window panes, one or two are not serious, but broken or missing panes are.

Wear on door sill and on floors is sometimes unavoidable and is usually not a serious defect.

Wouldn't it be nice to be in a new home by Christmas? Stop by A & M Fenton Realty, Inc., 104 Lowell St. Rte. 129, Wilmington, 658-3221, 944-6457 today and let us show you our fine selection of available homes. When you list your present home with us, you can be assured of its maximum coverage to qualified buyers through MLS. House: 9-5, 7 days; evenings by appointment.

Helpful Hint: If any defect is extensive on any building you are considering, it's best to look elsewhere for your purchase.

Muddy water again

Ruth Kitchener of Aldrich Road attended the selectmen's meeting Monday night bringing with her two jars of water. Both had a rusty colored sediment at the bottom, being perhaps 20% sediment and 80% water. The water, she said, came from her kitchen faucets.

Mrs. Kitchener apologized for having missed the last selectmen's meeting. She had to be out of town. But she wanted to have her own say on the water situation. It was something, she said, that had been going on for a long time.

She discussed the Shawsheen School. Children who drink water there, she said, got a mouthful, and it wasn't water. She had been told the High School has the same problem.

She had read the account published, of the last meeting. She wanted to ask, Do Selectmen have a priority?

Selectman Jim Banda assured her that the priority would be established in an article being prepared for the Town Meeting.

There were 250 families, Mrs. Kitchener said, who were having difficulties because of the water.

She was joined by Dolores Silva. "If the Water Department had listened, a year ago, and had reacted.." She thought there was a lackadaisical attitude. "Now there are troubles all over town."

Mrs. Kitchener said it wasn't fully. People all over town. People with new homes, new pipes, getting rusty water.

Mr. Banda assured her that the firm of Whitman & Howard were making a study of the Wilmington situation, and that a report was supposed to be ready for the next meeting of the selectmen.

Ruth Kitchener said that the paper had reported that the Water Commissioners wanted to know the remarks of the people. She was ready to give them.

Jim Miceli said all five selectmen were aware that there was a problem.

RUTH KITCHENER: With water bottles.

George Boylen "I agree with you, Mrs. Kitchener. Some things should be done."

Mike Caira said that he thought the study being done was being conceived as a job for the whole town. He hoped so, because his faucets were producing water that was a cross between chocolate and apple cider.

Mrs. Kitchener: They are talking about building a new high school, up in a bog, and we can't even use the presen' facilities in the town.

Someone suggested that the chairman of the Water Commissioners should hold up the installation of new pipes until the cause of the troubles had been determined.

George Boylen took time to explain how the Water Commissioners run the Wilmington Water Department. By act of the legislature it is a self supporting department. The commissioners have to raise money themselves, or else have to ask the Town Meeting for money. "What burns me is that the industries in this town use two thirds of the water, and pay for one third of the cost of water."

"Interestingly enough, the (Wilmington) Chamber of Commerce supports the idea of an increase in industrial water rates, and the Board of Water Commissioners do not."

"To give the Water Commissioners credit, they don't want to spend a million bucks."

Mrs. Kitchener then declared that "for every industry that comes into Wilmington our taxes go up - not down."

Jim Mancini, of Chestnut Street had been listening intently. He had installed a filter set in his water line, he told the selectmen, and he had a filter with him that had been used just three weeks.

He had two. One was unused. It was white. The other was of the color of apple cider.

Free flying bullets in East Wilmington

Somebody, or a couple of somebodies have been shooting in East Wilmington, and Police Detective Danny Ballou frankly hopes there isn't any more of it.

The Lothian home, at the corner of Woburn Street and Concord Street was the site of the first shooting, on November 8th. A 25 caliber bullet came through the wall shortly before 11 pm, struck a partition wall, and landed in Mr. Lothian's bed. There were no personal injuries.

A Wilmington school bus was hit the next afternoon, while on Woburn Street near Jenks' Bridge.

Woodrow Fox, bus driver, told Ballou he had a busload of youngsters, and was driving north on Woburn Street when a bullet came through the right rear window.

The glass was shattered. Pieces of the window were on the seat nearby, and splinters were on the seat on the opposite side. Students were seated nearby, but no one was injured.

The bullet , a pellet, was found beneath a seat.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF WHS: Will present the play the "Miracle Worker" a compelling drama of the early life of Helen Keller, on November 15th, 16th and 17th, beginning at 8 pm.

1200 visited the Harnden Tavern

SHIRLEY CALLAN: Behind her are commission members Katherine Filipowicz and Evelyn Sheerin.

One thing is definite, as a result of the visit to the Board of Selectmen, Monday night by the Wilmington Historical Commission. That definite item is that there were 1200 persons who took advantage of the opportunity to visit the Harnden Tavern, a couple of Sundays ago.

A second definite item is that Shirley gave the Selectmen, individually, copies of a letter from Polly Rettig, historian with the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Mrs. Rettig was the young lady who had visited the Selectmen previously, now married, and about to take a job on a historical basis in Cambridge.

The letter said in part that a Historical Commission may administer on behalf of a city or town any historic property that the community owns. It was in the interpretation of that phrase that the difficulties arose.

Shirley wanted the town to do the work of maintainence, etc. She wanted a budget of $500 for the Commission. She was ready to brook any arguments, and when Mr. Boylen and Mr. Caira asked questions Shirley flashed back arguments that sort of confused the issue. Things got a little sticky. Boylen and Caira felt they should have the advice of the Town Counsel.

Shirley wanted her vote right away. Mike Caira said a two week delay wouldn't do any harm, while he consulted Town Counsel. George Boyle said he wouldn't vote without "benefit of Town Counsel."

Mr. Banda tried to amend the motion by Mr. Gillis, putting the Tavern into the care of the Historical Commission. It was a futile move.

The vote was three in favor, one opposed (Caira) and one abstaining (Boylen).

For Woburn Street

A thirty two foot brick building

A thirty two foot building, of brick, is to be constructed shortly on Woburn Street, near the home and office of the Smith Pump Company. The Board of Selectmen were so advised, on November 12th, and they were unhappy to hear the news.

The building is to be constructed by the Lowell Gas Company. It will be thirty two feet long and thirty two feet wide, and will look, as much as possible, like a residence.

The purpose is to have a place for a "gateway" - a place where the flow of gas, in the Tennessee pipe lines can be measured. The only activity will be the visit of one vehicle a day, to change charts on meters.

Selectman Danny Gillis wanted to know why the building could not be erected near the Avco plant on Lowell Street, where the Tennessee gas line crosses that street. He was told that the Massachussetts DPU, in August 1971 had approved an order for the Woburn Street site, at the same time as it had ordered the LNG site to be transferred to Ballardvale Street.

Lowell Gas was represented by Donald Goodick, an engineer, and Foster Porter.

There would be no tanks, they said, with the new building. There would be, strictly as a safety device, a material called Mercaptan, in the gas, a deodorant which could be detected by smell, if any gas were to escape.

Someone took the clock

The Harnden Tavern is now rented, for $150 a month and utilities, to Mr. and Mrs. Al Blackburn, former residents of the Hathaway Acres section of North Wilmington. The couple moved into their new home recently, and a story can now be told.

Several months ago, when the tenants of the previous owner vacated the building there was an immediate problem on what to do about possible vandalism.

The Town Manager sent up a couple of employees to rig electric lights to a time-clock, so that there would be a night-time appearance of being an active home.

On that day, while the employees were out to lunch, someone stole the clock.
